The Big Summer Vote

VICTOR J. MACKIE, VICTORIA Daily Times correspondent in Ottawa, has provided what is probably the best answer that can be given to opposition forces seeking to create anti-Liberal feeling because the general election has been called for Aver 10

Conservative Leader George Drew had voiced dissatisfaction with the date, declaring it would "disfranchise hundreds of thousands of Canadians' who would not interrupt summer holidays to return to their voting precincts. His reaction reflects the Progressive Conservative line laid down last week by George C. Nowlan, QC, MP.

by CCE Leader M. J. Coldwell, and Columbials as Social - Court premier Mr. Bennett, has joined the chant "A summer claotine will boomerang on the Liberals," he says, adding, "It's a sign of weakness.

Mr. Mackie, doing a little research in Ottawa, has presented a few en-lightening facts. He reports:

"The last time a summer general election was held was July 28, 1930. In that vote 76 per cent of the elec-torate entitled to vote cast their

"The general election of 1935 was held in the fall, on October 14, and 75 per cent of the electorate cast their ballots."

In March, 1940, incidentally, the percentage was only 70.

In other words, if one season seems more favorable than another to encourage a big vote, it appears to be summer—the holiday time.

The selection of the actual date for balloting has been explained by Prime Minister St. Laurent. He expressed the desire to avoid any election dissension among Canadians attending the Coronation. With that sentiment most people in this country will agree.

Having returned from that cereony, he has set the wheels in motion for the election as soon as posrecking particular prohave enumeration completed before the end of June to evoid distante

The Prime Minister's explanation and Mr. Mackie's research provide conclusive answers to partizan pro-tests against the August 10 election

In recent years, the summer month balloting brought out a higher per-centage of voters than did the elections in either spring or fall.

Mr. Drew, Mr. Nowlan, Mr. Cold-

well and Mr. Bennett might explain why, in the face of these statistics, it is bad for Canada to allow Canadians to vote during the season which has brought out most voters.

It was gratifying to note in the valedictories, as in addresses given by adults to graduates, the importance attached to the humanities. The need for a counter-balance to material progress and scientific development was clearly recognized.

Showing no inclination to live in the past, these young people still acknowledge a debt to the simplicities and the clear thought of earlier ages. They are not, as so many adult critics appear to believe, seized only with the affairs of the moment to the exclusion of more abiding values. Their appreciation of scholarship seemed sincere. Their definition of success appears to go beyond the accumulation of possessions.

No adult, listening to the addresses, could assume that the graduates had turned deaf ears to appeals to service in the community and the

Einstein vs. the Inquisition

DROF. ALBERT EINSTEIN. whose love of intellectual freedom is as well known as his eminence as a scientist, has delivered a crushing indictment against witch-hunts. oting the methods of Amori investigating committees, he makes his position quite clear: "It is shameful for a blameless citizen to submit to such an inquisition and

'Every intellectual who is called before one of the committees ought to refuse to testify, i.e., he must be prepared for jail and economic ruin, in short, for the sacrifice of his personal welfare in the interest of the cultural welfare of his country.

violates the spirit of the con-

The great scientist's reaction is easily understood. Einstein came to to the United States to escape other type of authoritarianism then expressing itself in Germany.

How far the Einstein procedure could be carried and still avoid interference with legitimate safeguards erected to protect a nation raises an important question. On the other hand, it is obvious that the methods employed in many loyalty hearings have invited his antagonism. An action has produced its equal and opposite reaction.

The Einstein statement provides a dramatic protest which Americans cannot ignore. It furnishes, also, a note of warning to other nations against the hazards of excitability.

Mr. George F. Kennan, former U.S. Ambassador to Russia and an authority on Soviet affairs, analysed the American reaction to communism revealed by the "excited accusers" and those belonging to the profession of denunciation. thoughtful men of the republic are deeply and properly disturbed by the estructive forces crusading under the banner of militant anti-communism and by their tactics which create the very conditions they criticise in Communist states. Dr. Einstein is well aware of the personal costs of the type of intel-lectual passive resistance he advocates. He does not seem impressed by the fact that such a course would lead to obvious abuses by citizens less blameless than the ones he addresses. Whatever may be the results of his advice, one point is clear: his proposal would never have been made if investigations had not become inquisitions causing permanent professional and social injury to some of their victims who are innocent of wrongdoing.

Justice Will Be Done

NEWS THAT COMMUNIST groups in several countries are planning mass demonstrations on be-half of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, sentenced to die in the United States for giving atomic secrets to a foreign power, are not likely to influence the course of justice.

The Rosenbergs were due to be executed tomorrow night but have made a last-minute appeal — their second— to the President asking for executive clemency. The accused spies were granted a fair trial and appeals and their case has received all the legal consideration possible. Their latest request, asking leniency because of their children, is one that will bring sadness to those who must reconsider the Rosenbergs' fate.

But such considerations, however much we may deplore these tragic should have been consequences, uppermost in the minds of the Rosenbergs as they set out to betray their country. They, surely, should have been concerned for the future of their children. Should they expect greater concern from the head of the country whose vital defense secrets they gave to a possible enemy?

The Communist organizations have made propaganda out of the case from the beginning. But they will not be able to hide the salient fact that justice is being done-and a far more considerate type of justice than similar transgressors would have found in any Communist-controlled country.

Chips

ASI was eating my porridge this morn ing, pacing up and down the wee blacktop path that leads to our house, I fell to thinking of the Scots custom ofeating your porridge standing up instead of bent and seated. Myself, I think that's a sore reflection on the porridge. But the Scots don't. They claim it's a compli-ment. To eat the stuff seated would be a grave injustice to it I hope you'll note this Scots prose. It manages to be long but You can leel the man groping for what I might well call the word, and he's as confident as be damned That's what we term a phenomenon. The scots. I suppose, are the only people who contrive to be sure of themselves and yet diffident at the same time. That's what's the matter with them. This is what you call a gratuitous insult, a thing on which the Scot places little value. The only in-sult he treasures is one he pays many guineas for, in Harley Street, among his compatriots.

A weel. Hootsawa. I was speaking of yon parritch. I don't eat it standing up as what you might castigate as a reave, a reproval (full value to those vowels, please) to the cook. No. I like the stuff fine. Neither do I eat it on my early manoeuvres to show I am a man of deep thoughts, too precious to share. It's simply this: At breakfast time I disapprove of my wife and bairns, and I get off into what woods, we happen to possess. If I were a Scot, as I thank ma Maker I am not, I'd also feel ashamed of myself. So no wonder I'd eat my break-fast standing up. If a man is jittery about himself and yet boastful simultaneously. it's a clear miracle he can swallow his groceries at all, whether he is horizontal. vertical, or tilted.

T HAVE no such disabilities. The only reason I pick up my porridge and walk is because my family has what I might well describe as a hair-trigger loquacity. They also salute the rosy dawn with piano lessons, plus practice. Than which.

VINCENT

BEING always a good bit behind the times (with "good" the operative word, I hope!) I hadn't realized until jus now that the painter Van Gogh based many of his works on Japanese prints. On the composition of these prints, mean and not particularly so the color Vincent worked his own colors out with little balls of vari-colored wool, and one day before I die I hope to see these balls at the new Van Gogh Library and Archive

THERE was a fashion for Japanese art in Vincent's time. It infected the whole school of Paris for a generation or ore, and you can see the symptoms of yet. But Vincent got bitten by the bug far worse than Whistler or anyone else. At times he felt he WAS a Japanese, and he deliberately lived in Provence because he thought, in his ignorance, that Prov-ence and Japan were practically identical.

What a theory! I have been in neither ountry, but at least I know better than at. Even lacking the artist's eye I know it. Japan, on the whole, is quite a northern land. Provence is of the south. Many parts of Japan are very like B.C., if a trifle more volcanic, in the geological sense. The vegetation itself is so like the coastal stretches of B.C. it makes you homesick. Maples and all. Provence is another thing entirely. As Vincent, that northerner, discovered when he burnt his eyes out in its harsh sun.

WELL. I suppose it matters to the critic whether or not Van Gogh invented a cene or transcribed it from life or traced t from a Japanese print. But it's little care. What matters to me is how he dealt with the subject in hand. He didn't get any of that from his Japanese pals. Isolate one square inch of a Japanese print, and about ten square inches of a Japanese painting, and you will find mere Take even half a square inch of Van Gogh painting and you will find veliness itself. It is true he had a few tricks (which he invented himself). But what tricks! If Wild Bill Shakespeare is permitted to have tricks in his sonnets, think we'll have to issue Wild Vincent special permit to have tricks on canvas

THERE is far too much talk about this deriving from that. It sprouts from a smart-alecky frame of mind. Indeed. my definition of a critic is that he is a man who is as smart as an aleck. If a painter or anyone else is patently copying another man, it is all very well to call him derivative, though it is a lousy adjective for a plagiarist. But if he is being stimuanother country, how does that knowledge stimulate you in enjoying his original talent? Not at all, unless you are a snob or a psychiatrist often the same ng, for both types keep cleverly search ing for motives while quoting things that they have read in books. And both are SUPPOSING a man does get an idea from somebody else's picture? Sickert did it all the time, and from vulgar old magazine illustrations and photo-graphs at that. This didn't make Sickert a bad painter, nor did it make the pi which stimulated him any better. The pictures were the point of departure for there on his skill took over. His gift. Call it what you like, but don't tell me about it, because I know already.

SO WHAT?

In attempting to answer your correspondent, "A Puzzled Voter," in your issue of 11th inst., we have to go back to the fundamental basis of our economic relationships. This may be found in the fact that "homo sapiens," otherwise the human animal is the only one in nature that animal, is the only one in nature that preys upon its own kind and that the more he gets the more he wants.

Out of this instinct for personal gain has grown our system of political economy, based upon the private ownership of our sources of material wealth and of the production and distribution of the necessities of life, and their exploitation on a competitive basis for private profit, which in the final analysis when it reaches the international level means war.

No better illustration of the need for the recent plain speaking of the Hon. Lester Pearson to our American neighbors could be found than the extraordinary statements of Professor Taylor of the University of Washington as reported in your issue of June 15.

Behind the Concessions

By WALTER LIPPM ANN, from Washington

THE U.S.S.R. has been doing some remarkable things in Europe during the past fortnight. They must have beendecided upon a while ago and then scheduled for action when the terms of a Korean armistice had great powers. first week of June the Rhee, was substan tially agreed to. Early in the following week the U.S.S.R. sent a civilian as High Comr sioner to Austria, aban-doned its claim to a

Lippmann long contested hydro plant in lower Austria, told the Austrian government that they would longer be interfered with in selecting their police force, and then suspended the Soviet control of the movement of civilians and of private and of com mercial traffic for that can be done only when the Red Army evacuates Austria. But it did lift very considerably the Iron Curtain which has divided Austria.

The restoration of that degree of free-dom of movement for the Austrians is an action of substance which. I believe, must mean a change in the occupation policy—if it does not indicate that the occupation is nearing its end.

Last week the U.S.S.R. took even more striking action in Eastern Germany. It made peace with the Protestant on terms which appear to halt the persecution entirely and to restore rights, prerogatives and property of the church. The peace was made with Bishop Dibelius who represents the whole German Protestant Church

Then the Politburo of the East German ow, issued a series of decrees which stopped the Sovietization of East German agriculture and industry. Decrees also grant a wide amnesty to offenders against specific Soviet measures, and they invite the return of the Germans who are refugees in the west because of the policy of Sovietizing the farms

The significant thing about these actions in East Germany is that they are addressed to the most serious prac-tical problem, which has yet to be solved, considered by the ex- if the two Germanies are to be united.

That would ing May, an average have been the situation, had the policy 205 patients per adopted last July been carried out. The policy of Sovietization has been begun but it is far from being completed. The U.S.S.R. has now suspended the policy. If this is to be followed, as it may be, a restoration of something like the freedom of circulation which has been put into effect in Austria, it will be difficult to deny that these decrees have gone a long way toward laying the necessary foundation for Ceremon uni-moving toward German unity. doing this even before there is any kind of negotiation, much less agreement, by the great powers about the future of Germany. The Soviet actions may have, so it ms to me, an important bearing of Churchill's proposal for a four power meeting and Eisenhower's for the Ber-muda meeting. The basic assumption of all the high level meetings is that the great powers will try to see if they can agree on settlements of the big issues.

The striking thing about the Soviet ctions in Austria and East Germany is that they anticipate the Big Four and the Big Three. They are direct measures to remove issues between the U.S.S.R. and the three nations, issues which otherwise would be the subject of great power negotiation.

The U.S.S.R. has made big concessions. she has made them not to us and not to the Bermuda powers. She has made

Senate Passes Bill to Give Pakistan Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) - 7 WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Senate swiftly passed Tuesday a bill giving drought-plagued Pakistan 1,000,000 tons of wheat from the big U.S. surplus.

It was only six days ago that President Eisenhower sent a special message to Congress proposing the gift. The bill now goes to the House of Representatives where administration leaders will try to get it through in time to have the first shipments of wheat reach Pakistan in August. Later the House agriculture committee gave the bill its approval.

The grain will come out of surplus stocks acquired by the government under price sup-port programs. A million tons to about 37,000,000 bushels. Including transporta-tion charges, the gift will cost the U.S. government about $100,000,000

A night at home in front of a television set, or why didn't to the club with the boys? First, you pick your spot, an easy chair preferably (the video variety are all right, I suppose, if anyone's mixing the drinks; but who can afford drinks and a television set, too?) Light up a good 5-cent cigar and prepare (note, I said "prepare") for a quiet evening "Aha, a fight," you say, as two principals from Podunk Junction are introduced. "Nothin like a good fight." "Will you take the garbage down?" cries a voice from the kitchen. To this remark, exercise complete disregard. (That's the best approach, because you're going to have to comply sooner or later, probably sooner).

"Round one," the commentator says, as

"Round one," the commentator says, as two dusky figures glide across the ring.
"Crash!" the vase on the coffee table has just held it's last flower. The loud wail like the howl of a banshee is mingled with the sound of running feet, and the yell "get outa here" slightly overshadows the plaintive cry "don't pank me."
"Watch those ashes!" and the warning is heard as the cigar rolls down the side of the seat cushion. "You'll burn the place down."
"Yes dear," one answers meekly as cight hands stream."

'Yes dear," one answers meekly, as eight hands struggle with the cushion. "See, there's no danger."
"Round two," says the announcer.

"Crash!" (again). No, it's not the fight. It's a lagnosse ball from about two feet distant which has found its mark on one's head. "Let's pay ball," says a voice, easily recognizable, but somehow grating at this time.

The announcer is heard in the background: "Round three".

"Brin-n-n-ng," goes the front doorbell. Ignore it if you

Hogan a 3-D Golfer

NEW YORK (AP)-What makes Ben Hogan great What is the success secret of this 40-year-old Texan who today straddles the golf worldlike a colossus?

"It's a three-dimensional that's what it is," said former champion Lawson Little after watching Hogan fashion his fourth straight U.S. Open championship last week-end at Oakmont.

"He never chooses the wrong club. While we other golfers always have to worry about whether we're long or short on a shot as well as wide, Hogan has only to worry about whether he's too much to the right or left.
"He is the greatest I ever saw for putting the ball in course. He is always study ing, thinking, plotting, taking mental notes of every shot he or his opponent hits. He seems to file all these notes away back in his head for future use.'

Bobby Locke of South Africa, who must defend his British Open championship against Hogan next month at Carnoustie, called Ben "the aster of every shot in the master of every shot in the bag."

"He is never guilty of shoddy thinking or shoddy shooting." Locke added.

U.S. POWERLESS TO PROSECUTE RUSSIA FOR KATYN MASSACRE

Bictoria Baily Times WEDNESDAY, JUNE 17, 1953

WASHINGTON (UP)-The State Department has informed Congress the United States is powerless to prosecute Russia before the International Court of Justice for the Katyn Forest massacre of Polish troops in the Second World War, It was disclosed today.

Assistant Secretary of State Thurston B. Morton, in a er to Representative Ray J. Madden (D., Ind.), said ... the department is reluctantly compelled to conclude that there is no jurisdictional basis for compulsory litigation year investigated the Katyn Forest massacre and fixed the blame on Russia for the cold blooded slaughter of more than 10,000 Polish officer prisoners. Russia had blamed Germany for the atrocity.

Eight carloads of Saanicl to Eastern Canada since the be-ginning of June, J. J. Young, manager of Saanich Fruit Growers' Association, said today.

The berry shipments represent 7,393 crates or 85,408 boxes.

Meanwhile, carrich growers report that cool weather is owing down picking. Normally the strawberry season is at its height at this time of the year, they said, but cool nights and rain retarded the crop. Growers now expect the berry season will reach its peak next

Premier Denies Having Chosen His Successor

St. Laurent Explains 'Quote' From Letter

OTTAWA (CP) - Prime Minister St. Laurent Tues-day denied reports that he has chosen State Secretary John W. Jack Pickersgill to be his successor as prime minister and leader of the Liberal Party.

He was commenting in an interview on recent newspaper speculation that he has already in his own mind chosen Mr Pickersgill to follow him in the two offices.

Mr. St. Laurent referred to a letter written June 8 to former state secretary F. Gordon Bradley of Newfoundland in which the prime minister described Mr. Pickersgill as "a junior

Drug Makes Volunteers See Things

WINNIPEG (CP) — A drug which makes patients writhe, roll on the floor and pace up and down, was described Tues-day by Ben Stefaniuk of Regina in a paper prepared for the Canadian Psychiatric Association.

Mr. Stefaniuk, who prepared the paper with Dr. A. Hoffer of Regina, said his patients believe the persons they see while under the influence of the drug have faces of animals or the faces seem to twist into grotesque shapes and develop three eyes.

The delegate described research work at the Weyburn. Sask., mental hospital in which the drug was used to produce hallucinations.

Mr. Stefaniuk said he used 18 test subjects, all volunteers. All trace of the drug disappears about 12 hours after its admin-

After the effects had worn off one man said he saw God and another thought he was dying. One patient suddenly thought it would be nice to be the governor of an island and immediately the building seemed to disappear and a balmy breeze blew on

The reaction of a famous nov elist, when tested, was that he suddenly understood all the teachings of Eastern mystics—

he couldn't express them but claimed he understood. Mr. Stefaniuk emphasized the danger of the experiments. He said one of his patients had an urge to jump off the roof of the

The Greatest Gasoline Development in 31 Years

Shell Premium with TCP* boosts power up to 15% increases spark plug life 150%... gives you extra mileage, too loday it is possible for you to enjoy the effect of an engine tune-up simply by changing from your present brand of gasoline to Shell Premium with TCP! You'll feel that increase in power by the time you've finished the second tankful, and as long as you continue to use Shell Premium with TCP.

Here's why. The biggest cause of both fuel and power loss affecting the majority of cars on the road today has been overcome.

In the average car, certain combustion by-products are constantly accumulating both on spark plugs and in combustion chambers. These deposits actually "short-circuit" the spark plugs and cause pre-ignition of the fuel-air mixture in the combustion chamberespecially when you accelerate, when you climb a hill, when you tour the open highway.

To overcome the power-wasting, fuel-wasting effect of these deposits, Shell Research developed a fuel additive-TCP. This remarkable ingredient, now blended into Shell Premium Gasoline, actually renders these deposits harmless. Your spark plugs spark as they should, combustion chamber pre-ignition is controlled and your engine takes on new life.

Shell Premium with TCP is indeed the greatest fuel advance since the introduction of tetraethyl lead in 1922.

All cars benefit

Shell Premium with TCP is essential if you have a car with one of the new high compression engines and want it to keep on delivering its original power for the normal life of your spark plugs. But even if you drive an older car with 30,000 or more miles on the speedometer, Shell Premium with TCP will "bring back" much of the performance you're missing.

Now in Canada but only at your Shell Dealer's

TCP was originally developed by Shell Research for aviation fuels and until now has been largely restricted to military aircraft.

Today, Shell Premium with TCP is available in this area, but only from your Shell Dealer.

On Amateur Golf Status

TORONTO (BUP) / "His heart and soul Royal Canadian Golf Association followed moves in Britain and the United States today and relaxed rules governing an amateur's standing. Hereafter professional golfers may regain amateur status after two years of non-profes-sional play instead of the former five-year period. The association said, however, that after five years as a pro, golfer normally will not eligible for reinstatement.

An amateur was redefined as "one who plays the game solely as a non-remunerative or non-profit-making sport." Under the new rules, an amateur may receive a prize worth $150. The limit before was $100. He also may serve as a caddie, caddie master or golf shop employees with he is 21

The RCGA said the changes were made to conform with rules of the U.S. Golf Association and the Royal and Ancient golf clubs in Britain.

cards. All you have to do is go downtown, or even to your corner it a difficult job, for there's one for every type.

For example, if he is a hunter, I noticed a very attractive card for 25 cents with two Irish setters pointing the way to a deer in the background. Boys and girls can give their daddy a card from a great assortment, which sell at 10 cents each.
Most of these have baby chicks, rabbits, puppies, pussy cats or other animals on them, and they're cute as can be. If you prefer to let him choose his own gift, buy a father's day "wallet" card

You can pay as much as $1.50 for his card! Believe me, this

LONDON (UP) — There will be an Eisenhower in Queen Elizabeth II's Coronation ceremony June 2.

Eisenhower will be one of the eight horses that will pull the reside to close the hatches and hope for cansion, dripperary. Tedder, McCreery, Cunningham, Tovey and Snow White.

Not one of them is a thoroughbred because, as one of the grooms in the Royal Mews puil, it, "Thoroughbreds are too flighty for this job."

The main qualification for inclusion in the Queen's 14 greys is strength. All are 16 hands high.

Then they must have sober temperament and natural aptitude to go no faster than three and a half miles an hour—the processional pace. Not that they could pull the great coach much faster. It was made in 1761 for
